Dear Charlie:

I hear Dr. Grant Stevens travels on tour giving medical lectures... Sounds impressive! What exactly is that for?

- Lynn, 49 years old

Dear Lynn:

Yes, Dr. Stevens is repeatedly being asked to lecture around the world, and to teach other physicians. It is indeed an impressive honor! Most recently, he just returned from Chicago where he was selected to be the Visiting Professor at Northwestern University, and Sao Paulo for the Brazilian American Aesthetic Meeting. We now post his travels on Facebook, and have a playful column "Where's Granto?" for readers to follow along. And, if you happen to be on an airplane yourself Lynn, don't miss out on his recent feature in the American Airlines Magazine, as one of the Top Plastic Surgeons in the United States, (nominated by his peers), and listed in Castle Connolly's Best Doctors.

-Charlie

We now have WiFi in our offices, so that YOU can access the Internet and Email, while waiting for your personal beauty treatment(s).
